

Beach Vacation 4 Me

My Picture Book of North Captiva

The leaves are just about at peak at my home in Ohio. I love this time of year when the sun is shining, the air is brisk and the colors are plentiful. It's the season that follows that I anticipate. I won't lie, I love the first snowfall but after that I am ready for the sunshine state.

Before I know it, the holiday season will be in full swing with Thanksgiving next month. I find there is no time more fitting to say Thank you! It has been a great pleasure working with all of my guests, homeowners, property managers and providers of so many services. I treasure our relationships and enjoy working with each and every one of you.

This newsletter is a bit earlier than planned as I will be spending the month of November on North Captiva. As promised in our September newsletter, I have new photographs of the most recent homes that owners have asked me to represent with the Beach Vacation 4 Me group. You can think of this as a picture book newsletter.

If you've had enough of the rat race, why not plan a trip North Captiva or Boca Grande where everything moves a little slower and time stands still. This is the Florida you hopped still existed, but didn't know where to find it! Give me call or send me e-mail. I welcome hearing from you and look forward to assisting with your vacation plans. In closing I give thanks to all of you!

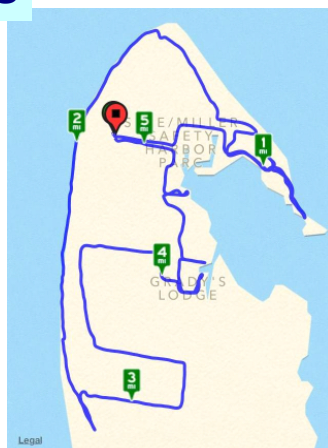

With my sincere gratitude to you! Sarah

PS. Grab your flip flops and don't forget your sunscreen, let's go to the beach.

North Captiva Run DEC 31

The 3rd Annual Fire Department run on North Captiva will be held at 9 AM. This is a fun 5K run and walk that benefits the North Captiva Fire Department. What better way to warm up for New Year's Eve and the enjoy the serenity of the island. Below are a couple of maps with distances for you to warm-up for the big run.
